Rail hearing postponed

A Canadian Transportation Commission hearing into the abandonment of the CNR rail line between Lindsay and Haliburton has been postponed. The hearing was scheduled to be held July 22 in Lindsay. However, due to pressure brought to bear by various sources in Haliburton County, the meeting has been set over to a later date, probably in September.

The hearing, requested by Canadian National Railways, will consider an application by CNR to abandon the rail link. Formal hearings are required before a rail company in Canada can cease to be responsible for a line. In this particular case the hearing is almost a moot point as the line has been unused for a number of years since a washout north of Kinmount damaged the trackbed.

At least three county organizations, the County Council, the Economic Development Commission and the Chamber of Commerce are expected to present briefs to the hearing. Other municipal councils and individuals are also expected to submit comments when the hearing is finally held.

The request to delay the hearing was based on the fact that Haliburton County organizations had only been notified several weeks prior to the date of the hearing. They argued that this did not give them ample time to prepare their briefs for presentation.

A push is also on to have the location of the hearing changed to this county. It was pointed out by Chamber of Commerce president John Hogg that while the rail line may start in Lindsay, it is northern Victoria and Haliburton County which it serves. He said the hearings should be held in the area which will feel the impact of the closure the most.

The CTC is apparently considering changing the location of the hearing or possibly holding a second hearing somewhere in Haliburton County.

Minden firemen soak the smouldering remains of the recreation hall at Orange Grove Cottages. The building was destroyed early Saturday morning. A complete report of the fire can be found on page 8.

Merchants question BIA plan--petition being circulated

Formal objections to the formation of a Business Improvement Area (BIA) have surfaced in Minden during the past week.

The opposition to the redevelopment scheme for the core area of the community is based on the uncertainty of the cost of the proposal and the overall state of the Canadian economy.

Gerald Cox of NorPhoto has been circulating a petition among main street merchants asking that the township council take another look at the formation of a BIA. "The response to the petition has been favourable," Cox commented. "I have only had an opportunity to visit a few stores and the merchants are generally sympathetic to what the petition says." At the moment the document contains five signatures.

"Basically what I am objecting to," Cox explained, "is that the merchants are being asked to endorse an improvement plan without knowing how much money will be spent or on what projects. I, for one, would like to see a detailed plan of what is going to be carried out."

Under the terms of the BIA legislation, a board of management, appointed by township council and including representatives of the business community and a member of council, will be formed to decide how much money is to be spent and what improvements are to be made. A by-law creating a BIA was passed by township council in early June. The program allows for a 60 day period during which merchants affected by the legislation can object. The final date for objections to the Minden BIA is August 1.

If objections are received, an Ontario Municipal Board hearing may be called to determine the validity of the objections. If, on the other hand, the council feels the objectors represent more than one third of the businesses and business tax assessment in the community, the program may be shelved.

"I think we should know what we are getting into," Cox stated earlier this week, "before it is too late."

"I am not opposed to improvements to the downtown area as such," the merchant commented, "but I do not feel this is an appropriate time to be borrowing money for anything." Cox noted that this had been less than a banner year for tourism and that many merchants were feeling the economic squeeze. He pointed out that further lay-offs in major industries to the south would probably further dampen the economy of the county.

Cox suggested that a BIA be formed but that funds not be borrowed for improvements at this time. "The township has indicated that it is willing to spend $25,000 on downtown improvements this year. Let's use that money and, for example, seek donations from downtown merchants to add to those funds," Cox stated he was against accepting responsibility for long-term debt for town improvements.

"Tourism is down, taxes are going up, the water rates were just boosted...this is not the time to be asking the merchants for more money. Some just can't find the extra funds," Cox said.

New Red & White opens today

After two months of feverish activity, Minden's newest addition to the business community opens today (Wednesday).

The grand opening of the Minden Red and White Foodmaster, Highway 35 at South Water Street, takes place this morning at 10 o'clock. The opening will mark the completion of a total renovation of the former Peterborough Lumber Store. During that time, the building has been increased in size by 5000 square feet with additional space being added on the west and north sides.

In addition much of the interior of the former lumber store was also redesigned.

The Peterborough Lumber operation has moved into the area that previously served as the lumber warehouse. The company continues to offer a complete line of hardware and building needs with larger orders available for delivery from the Peterborough store.

The development of the mall has been carried out by Daniel Lang Developments of Oshawa.

The owner of the new Red and White Foodmaster is Mike Easton. He also operates the Red and White Foodmaster in Haliburton Village.

A native of Minden, Mike has been active in the grocery store business for most of his life. His parents were involved in the Red and White outlet in downtown Minden. After working for the food wholesaling company, National Grocers, Mike opened the Red and White operation in Norland. He has since sold that store.

The new Minden operation has 10,000 square feet and includes the standard line of grocery products including meat, vegetable and dairy products.

Of particular interest at the new location is an in-store bakery. The bakery will be producing bread on a daily basis including white, whole wheat, cheese, onion and garlic breads. Customers will also be able to purchase pies and specialty cakes, such as Black Forest cake, made right on the premises. A cake decorating service or cakes made to order will also be

Council continues with legal action

Township lawyer Fraser Rogers has been given authority, "to proceed with suitable action with respect to settling the claim with the Ministry of the Environment and consulting engineers regarding street restoration." The instruction to proceed came at the July 9 meeting of council at which replies from two consulting firms were read.

The companies, Totten,

Ball diamond for Ingoldsby

Ingoldsby area residents are about to acquire a ball diamond and playground.

The by-law approving the creation of the recreation centre was endorsed at the July 9 meeting of Anson, Hinton and Minden Township council.

The initial cost of developing the area has been estimated at $8300.

The council was told that assistance in the project will be sought from Wintario and the Recreational Committee has been requested to look into the matter.

The ball diamond and playground will be located off the Scott's Dam Road.

Sims, Hubicki and R.V. Anderson Associates had been informed that the municipality intends to proceed with legal action. The suit is based on the condition of the roads following the installation of sewer and water services in the community and the quality of the road leading to the water tower.

A Totten, Sims and Hubicki spokesman responded by stating his company was unaware of any claims the municipality had made about deficiencies in the project. The company had been involved with the construction of the water reservoir and the road leading to the tank. The municipality claims MOE had indicated the road would be built to acceptable provincial standards, but such is not the case.

The letter from the consulting firm stated that there was no clause in the contract to indicate the road was to be built to Ministry of Transportation and Communications standards.

The spokesman pointed out that design plans for the road and tank were submitted to the municipality prior to the start of construction.

According to a spokesman for R.V. Anderson Associates, a company which was involved with the engineering surrounding the installation

Curling club contract awarded - total cost now $360,000

The contract for the construction of the new Minden Curling Club and recreation building has been awarded to an Orillia firm. The tender of Ray Knight Construction was formally accepted at the July 9 meeting of the Anson, Hindon and Minden Township council.

The amount tendered by the successful bidder was $257,365.

The six tenders submitted had been studied by the curling club building committee. The group met with three contractors to discuss various aspects of the work to be carried out. The Knight bid was $17,000 under one submitted by Whitnev construction and $23,000 less than Beachli Construction of Haliburton. A tender which was lower than the Knight bid had to be rejected when it was realized that it did not meet all the qualifications as set out by the committee.

In addition to the cost of constructing the building, the committee has estimated that up to $90,000 will be required to complete the interior furnishings of the building. The committee also suggested that $12,000 would be the amount needed for water and sewer connections.

The total cost of the project, including funds for contingencies, is $360,000. Godfrey Saunders, speaking on behalf of the committee requested council's backing in making application to Wintario for a grant to cover a portion of that amount.

After accepting the tender from Knight Construction, the council also endorsed the Wintario application.

Saunders also requested that the council supply interim financing to cover construction costs until the Wintario funds are made available or until enough money is collected in the drive for public donations. Saunders was asked for the amount required before the council would agree to his request, but the council has indicated that it still supported the project and would continue backing the efforts of the committee.

Later in the meeting, when the council was asked if the municipality was prepared to make a donation to the building fund, Reeve Sinclair Nesbitt told Saunders to continue with the fund raising efforts. "If there is a problem, we will be here," he told the representative. Nesbitt also suggested that if the municipality did provide interim financing, that might be considered its contribution to the project.

Fund raising for the project started last week, although various club activities during the past year have already been added to the building fund.

The council and representatives of the building committee agreed that a board of management including club members and council representatives would be created to oversee the operation of the structure. Councillors Stuart Brandon and Lyle McKnight will serve on that board.

Councillor McKnight asked the club representatives what rent they would be charging for the use of the recreation area in the new building. He said he was concerned that if the club undercut the rates now charged for the community centre portion of the arena, it could reduce the number of rentals in that building. Councillor Brandon also suggested that the rates be in line with that charged at the community centre.

Club representatives Godfrey Saunders and Jim Garbutt indicated that there was no plan to undercut the rents now being charged for the community centre.

Before the meeting closed, the council agreed to sign a letter of intent so that preliminary construction work could begin prior to the formal approval of the Wintario application.

Council backs cottager - closes shore allowance

Stanhope Township council has agreed in principle to close the road allowance to vehicular traffic fronting a Maple Lake cottager's property.

The agreement was reached at the July 9 meeting of council.

The property in question is owned by Hubert Moss and he and his son, David, have been involved in lengthy disputes and a court case involving their neighbours. The trouble began in 1974.

The Moss family applied for the closure of the 66' allowance in front of their cottage. David Moss said that the use of the road allowance by vehicles has made the front lawn of his cottage an unsafe place to sit in the summer.

Moss' neighbours, Leon Dragon and Olgierd Cichowski, co-owners of their cottage which abuts Moss' property, were protesting that the only access to their property, was by a right of way designated as an existing roadway which is part of the road allowance.

The case went to court and Victoria County court judge, Lloyd Woods ruled in March of this year that the road allowance was public property and that Dragon and Cichowski could continue to drive over it to reach their cottage.

Several members of council and David Moss questioned whether adequate access could be constructed at the back of their neighbours' property but the lawyer for Moss' neighbours, R. J. Victor said that it would alter the topography. He also said that one would have to be a "mountain goat" to use that entrance.

At the Wednesday July 9 meeting, reeve Jim Harrison said, "There is a conflict. I can sympathize with these people but we have a situation between two owners and we can't favour the one over the other."

At the time of the court case, David Moss said that his family was not looking for a deed to the 66' allowance, even though Moss did present council with an application to purchase the land, they wanted a by-law to control the use of that area.

In a letter read by Moss at the May 7 meeting of council, he said, "The main purpose of the by-law would be to stop continued misuse of the road allowance in general and to provide a measure of protection for abutting land-owners until the process of closure and deeding can be completed."

However, reeve Harrison displayed his displeasure at Wednesday's meeting. "We're opening a can of worms, we'll end up at the OMB."

But, he conceded, "If we close the road allowance, we'll have done our part."

Hustlers take Harcourt tourney

The Minden Hustlers may have to do without the services of one of their pitchers for the next few games following an accident Saturday in Harcourt.

Jack Snell, who has been pitching excellent ball for the Hustlers this season, was struck on the nose during a game in a tournament in Harcourt. The pitcher was running for first base when a player from the opposing team attempted to throw the ball to home from first base.

The ball struck Snell square on the nose and the pitcher had to be taken to hospital for treatment. The full extent of the injury or how long the pitcher will be out of action is unknown.

The good news from the Harcourt tournament was that the Minden team won four straight games to capture the championship.

The Hustlers defeated what was considered the toughest team in the tourney, downing Tweed 4-3 in the opening match. That game went nine innings with Jim Keetch hitting the clinching home run for the squad. A boost to the team's score also came from Brian Shaw who hit two homers during the opening contest.

In the second game against Bancroft Pharmacy, the Hustlers shut-out the opposition, 2-0.

On Sunday the Hustlers defeated Mount Albert by a 4-2 margin in the semi-finals and downed Bancroft IGA 4-2 to take the championship.

In regular league action, the Hustlers defeated Woodville July 9 at the Minden diamond. The final score was 7-2. Craig Stamp was the winning pitcher. Barry Shaw notched a homer for the squad.

The team is out of town tonight (July 16) as they travel to Bobcaygeon for a game. They also play next Tuesday in Woodville.

Answering all the questions

Are Minden downtown merchants being asked to buy a pig in a poke? That appears to be the concern of a few business people with regard to the creation of a Business Improvement Area (BIA) for the core area of the community.

The concern of the merchants, expressed more clearly in conversation than in the vaguely worded petition, centres on the fact the creation of the BIA will precede any decision on how much money, if any, will be borrowed, and where it will be spent. The merchants who have signed the petition want to know what extent the BIA is going to bind them to a financial commitment during the next ten years, before the improvement plan receives their endorsement.

This is a reasonable concern, particularly in light of present economic conditions.

However, as has been stressed by Councillor Stu Brandon, an enthusiastic proponent of the scheme and also a downtown merchant, the business owner will retain control of the evolution of the BIA through the board of management. Indeed, as Brandon has pointed out, if a BIA is formed there is no rule that says the group must borrow funds, if it feels the time is not appropriate.

The prime reason for the formation of a BIA should be to make the core area of the village a more attractive place to shop. While there is little doubt major schemes will require the financial assistance of the province, there is no reason the downtown merchants should not be actively encouraging and supporting a sprucing up of the core.

We feel that Minden's core is in need of the help that a designation as an improvement area could give it. We have endorsed and will continue to support a BIA for this community's core. At the same time, however, the concerns of those individuals who in the end must pay for the scheme, should not be left unanswered.

The support of all, or nearly all, merchants in the core area of the community is needed before any improvement plan is to succeed. Before the BIA gets too far down the road, extra time and effort should be made to ensure as many merchants as possible understand and support what is being proposed.

Times notified

The Times has received a formal notification from the Sheriff's Office in Lindsay, that an editorial appearing in the May 21 edition of this newspaper was considered libelous. The notification was signed by E. J. Gardiner, a barrister in Lindsay.

The editorial in question referred to the construction of a ready-mix plant on the Highway 35 by-pass.

The publisher of The Times, who was also served with a similar notification, has refused to comment on the situation.

A member of the Toronto Parachute School struggles on from the field with a tangle of equipment after completing a jump during the air show Saturday in Stanhope. The event, the second this year, drew a large and appreciative audience. The crowd was entertained by exciting acrobatics in the air above and demonstrations of equipment and aircraft on the ground. Organizers term the event another success.

Editor:

This morning my husband and I witnessed a very cruel act.

Someone had parked their car, locked the doors, and left a poodle in the car to suffer from the heat. The window was down only a fraction of an inch, barely enough to let any fresh air in.

Is there no law against this?

If there is, why isn't it enforced. That can be no more cruel to the dog than to kick and abuse it in any other fashion.

Perhaps this will be read by whoever the owners are and they will think twice before they leave their "pet" in this situation again.

Margaret Mills,
Haliburton.

A matter of semantics

When is acid rain not acid rain? ... When it is acidic or acidified precipitation.

To many the term acidified precipitation is just a long handle for acid rain. But, to scientists involved in the study of the problem, it is a more complete and accurate description of the phenomenon that brings acid from the sky.

Ontario's Environment Minister, Dr. Harry Parrott told an audience in Haliburton Monday evening that one of the tasks he set out for himself when taking on the portfolio was to change the habits of Ontario residents by introducing the term acidified precipitation in place of acid rain. He admitted his plan has not proven to be successful.

Acid rain refers to just one aspect of the problem, the acid which is carried to the ground by raindrops. However, scientists have been aware that the same acid content can reach the ground by filtering down from the sky on its own and some comes down with snow.

Also, as one member of the audience pointed out Monday evening the term liming has also become misused. Liming is generally used to refer to the addition of limestone to a body of water to buffer the impact of increased acidity. Adding pure lime, as the term "liming" may be considered to refer to, would have a drastic effect on the ecology of the lake, whereas the addition of limestone or other products could have a beneficial impact.

A member of the audience pointed out that the caustic lime used to speed the decomposition of animal bodies is not the sort of liming which some people feel should be added to the lakes.

Credit card conundrum

By W. Roger Worth

The credit card conundrum continues to haunt Canada's small business community, particularly entrepreneurs operating retail and hospital-ity establishments.

In a recent vote on whether the use of credit cards should be restricted, 62% of Canadian Federation of Independent Business members supported such a move.

Yet the small business sector is divided on the issue. Almost 34% opposed restrictions on the use of plastic money", then smaller retailers, hoteliers, and restaurant owners feel they must offer the same service.

Even so, independent firms operate at a distinct disadvantage, compared to their big business competitors.

The reason: smaller companies are forced to kick back 5% - 6% of credit card-sales to banks and other firms that promote schemes such as Visa and Master Charge.

The big national chains, on the other hand, pay half that amount, or 2% - 3% of the sales dollar.

So the person operating an independent business is caught between the proverbial "rock and a hard place."

If credit cards are accepted, the independent entrepreneur must pay $5 - $6 on every $100 sale to the card promoter.

But by not accepting credit cards, customers wanting that convenience may shop elsewhere.

There's little wonder smaller firms across the country are concerned about the issue.

money, and 4% were in the "no opinion" category.

While many independent entrepreneurs may believe credit cards are used irresponsibly, making it too easy for people to live beyond their means, many small businesses are forced to accept the cards for competitive reasons.

An exercise from the east helps westerners relax

by Sue Scott

Of all the forms of exercise people try to keep those pounds off - tennis, jogging, cycling - one form provides a combination of all but it's relaxing and less strenuous.

Yoga is rapidly becoming one of the most popular forms of exercise. Why? Simply because everyone can do it.

That is the philosophy of Susan Sell-Gambell who teaches yoga in Minden.

She stresses the fact that age is no barrier, or shouldn't be anyway, but she advises a check-up with the person's doctor before beginning yoga and continual visits after that problems arise. "If it is done properly and slowly, there shouldn't be injury or excessive strain," she commented.

Susan said that yoga is an exercise that doesn't require competition. "You don't compete with anyone," she maintains. "Even with jogging, one is always increasing the time or the distance factor. Yoga enables me to work at one's own pace and after a while improvement and ability will come naturally."

During her classes, Susan obviously enjoys herself. I only observed one session but she manages to instill in the students a desire to want to learn the exercises. She speaks in a soft, quiet way which helps the students relax and enjoy what they're doing.

Practising yoga is one part physical movement and one part mental attitude. Susan says that she has the students close their eyes during the exercises and she demands total concentration on the particular pose or exercise the students are attempting. If the student isn't concentrating, he or she will open their eyes to see what is going on and that action will destroy the relaxed mood.

There are several types of yoga. Susan teaches what is known as hatha yoga. Hatha is based on techniques that teach proper breathing, exercise and relaxation.

She described some of the other types of yoga. Raja is the meditative form of yoga. Very little exercise is done but the students learn how to meditate and relax their mind and body.

Kundhalini is known as the highest-form of meditation. Susan said that exercise can be involved but the stress is on meditation.

The origins of yoga go back 5,000 years to India. It spread throughout Europe and then became known in America.

Hatha, Raja and Kundhalini are all derived from the ancient Indian language, Sanskrit.

Susan noted that, "yoga has become increasingly popular in the last 10 years because it is a very complete exercise."

Yoga combines a physical fitness program with a relaxed mental attitude. Slow movement and a graceful rhythm are basic components in the practice of yoga.

Susan read a definition of fitness in its simplest form. Fitness combines muscle strain, tone, endurance, co-ordination, balance, good circulation, breathing, the ability to relax and deal with stress and mental stimulation. Hatha yoga teaches all these in varying degrees.

Members of Susan's yoga class concentrate on their exercises. According to Susan, yoga is an excellent way to relax.

As with most exercise programs, Hatha yoga requires some basic guidelines. Among them, Susan recommends regular exercise, even if it is only for a short time, never rushing or hurrying with the exercises, poses or positions should be held because muscles need a period of strain on them to stay in condition, but a hold shouldn't exceed five seconds at first, then gradually the duration can be increased.

Slow movement is a must and the student should never compare themselves to anyone else. Yoga is the "personal progress" exercise.

Intense concentration is needed at all times but in between exercises, rest and relax. Along with this, normal breathing should be maintained as well as a relaxed body.

A set time for exercising and a quiet airy place are advised. Susan said that if a person gets bored easily, the time at which they exercise can be varied.

It is also wise not to eat at least two hours before exercising and the bladder should be emptied.

Susan pointed out that slight dizziness and headaches may result after first starting yoga but they are normal. They shouldn't continue for long once the student has begun a regular program of exercise.

Another side effect that might occur is the cracking sound from joints or bones. Susan said that these too are normal but that people sometimes worry about this anyway.

The poses or asanas (another Sanskrit word) are varied in number and need for the areas of the body.

The headstand is an excellent remedy for varicose veins because of the increase in blood flow throughout the body.

The fish pose strengthens the thyroid and relieves shoulder pain, the cobra pose works on the back and abdomen muscles and the peacock pose works on the liver, stomach and pancreas to help digestion. This asana also acts on the nervous system.

There are other asanas that strengthen, massage and loosen practically every part of the body.

Susan is quite knowledgeable about her work and her training is also extensive but her decision to teach yoga was not her first career choice.

She was born in Cali, Colombia and when she was young her family moved to California where she received most of her early education.

She attended the University of Michigan and trained as an English teacher.

However, she switched careers and worked with computers for several years.

She speaks and has taught Spanish and she knows some German.

Susan said she had been interested and had experience in nutrition. Many of the books that she had collected were on health and fitness.

"I was under a lot of stress several years ago," she explains, "and all my books talked about yoga. I tried it and enjoyed it."

Since then she has been to three yoga "retreats". One was in Nassau, another in Val Moran, Quebec and the third in Cali, Colombia.

She opened her studio in May of this year after a stint with Sir Sandford Fleming College who rented the fire hall in Minden in which she taught classes. Now, many of her students have private classes and only a few come in groups.

Susan says she has a mixture of men and women. "It is still predominantly women, but more men are coming out."

She encourages the men but she thinks that they're more self-conscious because of what friends and co-workers might say. "Maybe they're afraid that people will laugh or make fun of them but it's just not done."

Yoga is an exercise that anyone can do. Susan says she has people from all ages and encourages more to try.

There is no pressure, no competition and no strenuous activity. It sounds like just the thing we all need to help us relax and forget our troubles for awhile.

Guild criticized for lack of programs here

A letter requesting the municipality of Anson, Hinton and Minden to make a contribution to a scholarship program sponsored by the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts, has prompted some pointed criticism of the operations of the guild in the county. Councillor Stuart Brandon made the remarks after the letter had been read at the July 9 council meeting.

The councillor was critical of the guild because, "...they have never done anything here". The councillor said, "They do not hold courses here and they never have held their summer exhibition and sale in Minden. Why don't they run courses for children in this community or have their sale here?" the councillor asked.

Brandon suggested that the name of the organization should be changed to the Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts because he felt all of the group's activities are centred in Haliburton Village.

"I have nothing against the Guild," Brandon commented. "I think it is a great organization, but I would like to know if they are going to do anything in Minden."

The councillor noted that the guild is sponsoring a series of four concerts during the coming fall and winter. "Why don't they have one here?" he asked. "It would be a nice gesture."

Reeve Sinclair Nesbitt suggested that the council ask Ruth Gorrie, the member of the guild who signed the request, to appear before the council to explain the activities of the organization.

The request for contribution was made to help cover the cost of scholarships to guild courses which were presented as prizes at the annual guild exhibition and sale. The show closes tomorrow and is being held at the Senior Elementary School in Haliburton Village.

FROM THE CHAMBER

By Bob Stinson

If you haven't visited Dorset for awhile you may have trouble recognizing it on your next visit. Things are rapidly changing in Dorset. Across the road from Robinson's Store the old service station has been completely renovated and upgraded by Bill Johnson and divided into three separate business establishments. The centre portion has been rented by Brad Robinson, of Robinson Store to house the "Pine Emporium". Brad mentioned that it was on this very location that Robinson's Store started in the early 1900's and they moved to their present location across the street in 1921. So after almost 60 years he says, "they are back where they started". Not quite of course, because Robinson's Store is probably still one of the most delightful examples of an old fashioned general store on a large scale.

Adjacent to the Pine Emporium, Bill Johnson has opened "Johnson's" which is a snack bar featuring delicious home made take-out food. On the other side of the Emporium Bill's wife June has opened "Tingles of Dorset." This quaint little high fashion dress shop is a scaled down model of the large and very successful "Tingles" which June has operated for a number of years in Burlington. There is still a little more space left in this building which may yet be rented to other entrepreneurs who would fit in with the theme that the Johnson's have established.

Bill Johnson and Fred Baum work out of the real estate office of Murray McEachern Real Estate in town, and they're quite excited about the new developments taking place in the area. They described with some considerable pride the continuing progress being made on Camp Dorset, the Lion's Clubs Cottage Resort that features the dialysis machine that enables those with kidney disease to enjoy a normal holiday, and the new firehall that is now being built through a Student Employment Program and volunteer help.

Over the bridge the Lumberjack Inn which has been slowly taking shape over the last several years is showing signs of nearing completion and hopes are that it will be in operation by the end of next year. Just north of town the Nordic Inn was purchased by new owners within the past year and Ben Minns and his son Mike and wife Barbara are presently planning some additions to the facilities. This beautiful motel complex already features a comfortable licenced dining room with a friendly atmosphere. In winter the Nordic maintain and groom their own cross country ski trails and the major feature is a flood lit trail for skiing in the evening.

Robinson's Store at the centre of all this has been considered a tourist attraction for some years now, and tour buses make regular stops there. Bob Palmer up in Dwight, was telling us that he had told a visitor that you could get anything imaginable at this store, probably even a box of horseshoe nails. The visitor returned after a visit and presented Bob with a box of horseshoe nails that he had purchased at the store. He had no use for the nails but having had the staff turn the store upside down to find them he felt committed to purchase them.

Railroad hearing postponed

Finally reacting to a considerable amount of pressure placed on them by County Council and the municipality of Dysart, the Canadian Transport Committee has agreed to postpone their hearing in regard to the C.N.R.'s application to abandon the railroad. The hearing, originally scheduled for July 22, will now take place sometime in September, hopefully right here in Haliburton County.

The additional time that we now have to prepare our case for this commission should be well used. It is hoped that the feasibility study for the steam locomotive train will be underway or complete by that time and some information from that study may be included in the submissions. Glen Hodgson, chairman of the Haliburton County

Economic Commission, last week appealed in a Letter to the Editors to have members of the general community communicate with the Commission and provide them with input that would help them in formulating their briefs. Members of the public of course are also welcome to prepare their own brief and submit it in September.

Whatever route you may wish to follow, let us give this concerns a very serious thought and be well prepared when the time comes.

New marketing plan

The Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce met last week and finalized the marketing plan for the 1980-81 year. The marketing plan is a completely new approach to promoting Haliburton Highlands and our Tourist Industry and details of it will be provided to the members of the Chamber shortly. Everyone agrees that it is a very good plan, and it is also a very ambitious one. For that reason we will be beginning to collect advertising to support the plan this summer to allow us more time to put everything together in a more professional manner.

We know all of you are very busy this summer and we do hope you will take a few moments out from your busy schedule to look over the options offered to you in this plan when it arrives in the mail. It means a lot to all of us.

Sewer charges will not go up

While water rates in Minden may have taken a jump recently, the charges for sewer service will not be going up this year. This fact was confirmed at the July 9 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden township council.

Sewage charges are calculated on the amount charged for water services. Under a formula devised by the Ministry of the Environment, when the system was first put into operation, the sewer charges are to be 218 percent of the rate charged for water service.

Members of township council appear to be coming under increasing pressure from village residents with regard to the recent retroactive increase in 1980 water rates. According to some members of council some ratepayers have indicated they do not intend to pay the increased fee.

It was pointed out at the Wednesday meeting that if a property owner fails to pay the complete fee for water and sewer services, the overdue amount will be added to next year's taxes. Once the amount has been added to the taxes, interest, at one and a half percent per month, will be charged on the overdue account.

ROTARY CLUB of HALIBURTON DATE CHANGE

The Rotary car draw date has been changed from August 6 to August 7.

The Rotary Parade will be held the evening of August 6 at 7 p.m.

Council to press case with Premier

Minden politicians will take their case for an exemption from one aspect of the Business Improvement Area (BIA) legislation right to the top. The councillors have requested a meeting with Ontario Premier William Davis to discuss the situation.

The decision to seek the assistance of the Premier was taken at the July 9 meeting.

The problem stems from the rules for creating a BIA in a community. Under the terms of the program, the municipality in question must have an official plan. Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships do not have the official plan as required.

In conversations this spring with the Ministry of Housing officials about this aspect of the BIA program, it was hoped that the Minister of Housing, Claude Bennett, might be able to waive that aspect of the requirements for the municipality. At that time it was pointed out that the county, with the exception of Dysart et al (which does have an official plan) had just completed a planning strategy. While that document is not recognized as an official plan by the Ontario government, it was suggested that this is just a step on the way to the creation of such a plan.

It was also noted that the municipality does intend eventually to draw up an official plan.

There was some concern expressed at the Wednesday meeting that the Minister of Housing may make a decision on the municipality's request before the delegation could speak to the Premier. If Bennett ruled against the municipality it is unlikely the Premier would reverse that decision. However, if the councillors were able to obtain the support of Davis for their position prior to a decision being taken by the minister, it is likely the request would receive Bennett's approval as well.

According to the municipal clerk-treasurer, Elinor Burke, no reply has been received yet from the Ministry of Housing to the original request.

Ted Fielding marks 93 years

Ted Fielding was the guest of honour at a surprise birthday party held Wednesday evening (July 9). Mr. Fielding, who turned 93, lives at the senior citizen's residence in Minden. The party was organized by other residents in the apartment complex.

Mrs. Seuret made a cake for the occasion and Mrs. Windover wrote a poem to mark the day. The poem was read by Mrs. Porter.

Mr. Fielding has many anecdotes to tell. When he was a young lad there was a lot of flooding so he was forced to canoe to the store and in winter he would wade in snow up to his knees at 40 degrees below zero just to get to school.

He farmed for 20 years then started the little store in Ingoldsby with $50. It is still in operation today.

Mr. Fielding has 6 children, the eldest son died in the war. There are 16 grandchildren and 7 great grandchildren.

Thursday his family took him out to celebrate.

The following poem was written by Mrs. Windover in honour of Mr. Fielding's 93rd birthday.

"To Mr. Fielding, July 1980. It's July the ninth and what do you think, Mr. Fielding is right in the pink. For this is his birthday so I am told, And he has reached ninety and three years old. Best wishes Mr. Fielding on this special day May God bless you and keep you along the way. Good health and happiness all the year through. And remember each day we'll be thinking of you. Your friends at the senior citizens apartments.

Ted Fielding, surrounded by fellow residents of the senior citizens' apartment complex in Minden, celebrated his ninety-third birthday on Wednesday. The guest of honour was presented with a cake to mark the occasion.

Council agrees with request

Township council has agreed with a Soyer's lake developer and will request rescheduling of hearing into a 17 lot subdivision on that lake. The hearing to consider the subdivision proposed by Couchiching Real Estate Limited was scheduled for August 5.

In agreeing with the request at the July 9 meeting, the council accepted the developer's suggestion that a second hearing would be required later this year to approve a rezoning application for the land in question.

Vern Hodgson, speaking for the developing company, told the council that he was concerned about the cost of holding two Ontario Municipal Board Hearings to consider two aspects of the same subdivision. He told the meeting that many of the same professional and expert witnesses would be required at both hearings so it would be advantageous to combine them into one.

Another spokesman for the developer, Deane Ewart, said it was premature for the township and the company to enter into a subdivision agreement at this time. He said that Mr. Hodgson is concerned about the objections that have already been raised to the draft proposal for the development.

The developer agreed to file an application seeking a rezoning from residential to seasonal residential immediately following his meeting with council.

Commenting on the situation, Reeve Sinclair Nesbitt noted that a number of area subdivisions are being delayed and this is hurting the activity of local tradesmen. He said one reason for the lengthy delays could be the fact the municipality does not have an official plan.

Council then endorsed the request for a delay in the OMB hearing and will notify the board of its feelings.

Swim program lacks registrants

While it is unlikely the program will be cancelled for this year, township council has expressed concern that only 12 people have registered for the second part of this summer's swimming program. The concern was expressed at the July 9 meeting.

For the first time this year the program at the Twelve Mile beach has been extended an extra three weeks. During the first four weeks of the program traditional learn-to-swim classes are being held for youngsters in the municipality.

During the latter three weeks, however, a program which involves adults has been planned. Included are mother and child swim classes and adult learn-to-swim classes. The four instructors who taught the children will also be on hand during the second part of the program.

The program is sponsored by the Minden Red Cross Society and the municipality.

Reeve Sinclair Nesbitt, though concerned about the future of the program, expressed optimism. He said that when the courses begin it is likely more people will be on hand to take part.

In any event, the council agreed to continue with its backing of the swimming program for this year. It was felt that since a commitment had been made to the four instructors that it would be unfair to cancel the instruction at this point.

Anyone wanting more information about the second half of the summer swim program can contact the coordinator, Eleanor Hall at 286-1764. Mother and child swim and adult swimming lessons begin July 28.

Recreation hall razed in Saturday morning blaze

A fire at the Orange Grove Cottages, in Minden, has destroyed the recreation hall. The blaze leveled the building early Saturday morning.

It is believed that the fire smouldered for a number of hours before being noticed and the alarm turned in. When an effort was made to contact the Minden Volunteer Fire Brigade the connection could not be completed. After repeated attempts failed, the Minden OPP detachment was called. Constable Gary Chapman was finishing his tour of duty and responded to the call.

The officer attempted to arouse firefighters by sounding the siren on his cruiser at the firehall, but with no success.

The constable then

Police activity

The Minden Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police report the following activity for the period of July 7-13, 1980. During this period the staff investigated 12 reportable and 1 non-reportable motor vehicle collisions and 143 general occurrences.

There were 6 break-ins reported, 5 compassionate messages delivered, 7 persons charged with liquor violations and 10 persons charged with boating violations.

The spokesman was also adamant that plans indicating where the money is to be spent and on what be drawn up prior to any borrowing being done. "All the merchants should have a chance to indicate their approval of the final program," Cox said.

Responding to the criticisms contained in the petition and comments, Councillor Stu Brandon pointed out that the merchants will continue to exercise control over the amount of money to be borrowed and how it will be spent, through the board of management. "The board will be made up mainly of other merchants," he pointed out. "If they do not want to borrow any money, then they do not have to."

Brandon noted that the board of management is expected to have regular meetings with the area merchants to keep them up to date on what is taking place, to receive the approval of the merchants for the plans, and to help with the planning of the BIA.

"I am concerned that of the five names on the petition, only two, to my knowledge, have bothered to attend the BIA information meetings," Brandon commented. He suggested that the merchants review the BIA material which was forwarded to them. "This material will clarify the questions they have," Brandon commented.

In addition to Gerald Cox, the petition has so far been signed by Keith Prior, Ted Madill, J. Earl Palmer and Nora Hogg.

contacted one of the firemen directly and the alarm was passed on to other members of the brigade by using the regular phone system.

The brigade was on the scene of the blaze at 5:20 a.m. but there was little to be done other than control the spread of the flames to nearby buildings and trees.

The fire phone system in Minden, similar to others across Canada, includes the installation of a special phone in the homes of members of the brigade. When the emergency number is dialed, all of the phones in the system ring, alerting members of the brigade that an emergency exists.

According to Fire Chief "Deac" Jackson, he was not aware the phone system was not working properly. He said there had been problems with the network in the past, but these had been corrected by Bell Canada.

Later Saturday morning a Bell crew has discovered that a short in a junction box, co-incidentally located behind the home of the deputy fire chief, Don Booth, was responsible for the malfunction of the system. The system is now reported to be operating normally.

Firefighters believe that the cause of the blaze could be traced to wiring located under the building. Witnesses at the scene report seeing a dog fleeing from under the building with its fur on fire. It has been suggested that the dog may have been chewing on wires or otherwise caused a short circuit, resulting in the blaze.

The owner of the resort, Julie Keberer, said the guests staying in cottages at the resort were very helpful when they were aware a fire had broken out. She said that some had attempted to bring the fire under control by throwing pails of water on it. Their efforts were in vain.

The loss was estimated at $18,000.

Locals continue northern battle

Another Minden fire crew has been dispatched to north-western Ontario to assist in the battle against rampaging forest fires in that part of the province.

According to fire co-ordinator at the Minden district office of the Ministry of Natural Resources, Hugh Allore, three more regular and two auxiliary crews might have to be dispatched to the area before the end of the week. Two supplementary crews of eight men each were sent from here to the fire zone on Saturday.

In last week's issue of The Times it was reported that the MNR office locally was drawing personnel from other ministries to assist with the fire fighting. This was incorrect. A ministry spokesman stated that all branches of the ministry of Natural Resources in Ontario were having trouble maintaining their various programs because of the drain of manpower to the north.

MNR officials have described this year's fire season in the north as one of the worst in recent memory.

Committee to oversee sale of shore allowances

A special committee to review applications for the sale of shore allowance in the townships of Galway and Cavendish has been appointed by the township council.

The appointment of the four member Road Allowance Committee was approved at the June 28 meeting of the council. At the same time the terms of reference for the group also received approval.

According to the minutes of the meeting, the committee is charged with evaluating all applications to purchase adjacent shoreline property. The committee will review each application, taking into consideration the guidelines laid down for the sale of such property in the township.

The committee will act in an advisory capacity to the township council, recommending acceptance or rejection of the applications. In this regard, the guidelines for the committee note that disputes should be resolved at the committee level before the matter is passed on to the council for consideration.

Prior to beginning operation the committee will have to contact officials in the Ministry of Housing to ensure the procedures they are following are in line with those included in the Planning Act.

Under the terms of the North Kawartha Official Plan, the townships have been given the authority to sell shoreline allowances to adjacent landowners. That policy was approved by the Ministry of Housing in December of last year.

Members of the Road Allowance Committee include Bill Holstock, Jack Shedden, Geddis Harper and Ron Van Ness.

Resignation

The Galway Cavendish Culture and Recreation Committee has accepted, with regret, the resignation of Thelma Brown. Her resignation was accepted at the June 17 meeting of the committee.

A letter of appreciation for her services was sent by the chairman, Glenn Gillham.

(The ghost of) Elvis stalks Minden stage

Anyone who is an Elvis fan will be pleased to know that the "spirit of the King" is very much alive and is manifesting itself in 24 year old Roger Trueman, currently appearing at the Rockcliffe Hotel.

Although Trueman was born in St. John, N.B., he has lived in Mississauga for the past 19 years and started his "tribute to King Elvis" career in Toronto about 5 1/2 years ago. Since then he has performed across Canada, in the United States and is planning a European tour in October of this year.

Always an ardent Elvis fan, Trueman claims he got hooked on Presley's stage presence and power. This, along with his desire to be an entertainer, came to its logical conclusion in Trueman's — "tribute to Elvis". (The already established Presley following certainly wasn't bad for business either!)

Not unlike the real thing, Trueman gets chased for autographs and swooned over by Elvis fans. He amusingly recounts the time in Windsor that his room was stormed by 40 girls who caught him in his underwear. (He didn't say what happened after that).

In Newfoundland he was guarded by 4 policemen on stage and security had to be hired for crowd control.

There was some evidence of swooners and autograph hunters Monday night at the Rockcliffe, but Trueman has been safe in his room, so far.

Trueman sheepishly admitted that he'd never seen a live Presley performance and that he did most of his studying from old film footage and T.V. concerts. He is presently performing with Brook Tenent on guitar, Randy Nelson on drums, Russ Pangborn on keyboards and Scott Loweg.

Trueman doesn't play any musical instruments and thinks of himself as an entertainer as opposed to a musician.

He prefers singing ballads to the old rock hits and cited American Trilogy. In the Ghetto, and Kentucky Rain as his personal favorites. Trueman also does a Beatles set (with a slight Elvis overtone).

Offstage Trueman is easy-going and is quite able to drop the "Elvis image".

When I met him for an interview, he was running around trying to borrow a pair of running shoes. He ended up infact, with a pair of "blue suede clogs". (compliments of the management).

Trueman and his Tribute to King Elvis are slated for the "50's Connection" on Global T.V. this fall - but you can catch them this week in Minden and, if you're an Elvis fan, you'll probably go back again!

of the sewer and water line, the condition of village roads was better after the work was completed.

The letter said in many instances the existing pavement have been laid over a six inch base while the construction company had provided a 12 inch compacted base before replacing the pavement.

The letter described the pavement in Minden as "generally in a deteriorated condition with cracks and an uneven surface," prior to the installation of the pipes. The consulting firm said that it believed remedial action had been taken on all complaints prior to the termination of the contract in February 1979 and that no further action would be taken by that firm at this time.

The council then instructed their lawyer to continue with the steps which could eventually place the municipality and the Ministry of Environment on either end of a legal battle.

Hugh Collim, 56, of Agincourt was driving his car south on County Road 7 and Edmund Berscheid, 36, of Oakville was in his pick-up driving north when the collision occurred.

The time of the incident was 11:45 p.m. on July 13. Constable Jim Solway investigated.

Hotel under fire again

Another letter complaining about activities at the Rockcliffe Hotel has been received by township council. The letter from Pat Diaz criticized the hotel for creating a lifestyle that some have taken to be "cool" or "in".

The letter stated, "On several occasions I have passed by and seen young people openly smoking marijuana." The writer stated that she had come out of the drug cult and that she was concerned about the image the hotel is giving to the youth of the community.

The new store will employ 25 people with Bill Kulas as the store manager. Bill has an extensive background in merchandising and grocery management. He was employed by Canada Packers for a number of years and is a graduate of the sales and merchandising course at Niagara College.

Those individuals who will head up the various departments in the store have also been named. Joe Pollard will be in charge of the meat department, Joe Dollo in the grocery department, Pete Carroll in produce and Mary McKee in bakery and delicatessen.

The newly enlarged parking lot, which is to be paved later this summer, will accommodate close to 200 cars.

STANHOPE NOTES

by A. F. Stevenson

Rumours circulating during the past week, with regard to the fire department, were quickly disposed of and proved to be worthless as the result of Reeve Harrison's action in insisting on an open discussion of the matter before township Council on Wednesday, July 9.

As a result of a remark made at a recent cottagers meeting to the effect that response to a fire alarm could be as low as only three firemen, the Reeve received some complaints and immediately asked for attendance reports at the past fifteen fire calls. The records indicated attendance ranged from six to fifteen at a fire with others on stand by if required.

With the fire chief, and also the chairman of the fire committee, councilman Elvin Johnson present, council entered into a discussion of the matter and the fire chief emphatically declared that he was satisfied with the response of the members of the department as well as their training results. When asked for his comment on the rumours, councilman Johnson stated that five men could handle most fires (on first response) and that in his opinion there was always an adequate turn out to an alarm.

Councilman Davis, who was also present at the association meeting, was non-plussed at the statement that only three men turned out to a fire call. He pointed out that at the recent chimney fire at his residence, involving two calls, there were eight men in response to the first call and seven at the return call, and this was besides those remaining at the hall on stand by call. The figures indicated average attendance at the various fires at better than nine men, with the evening and week-end figure being in the area of fifteen men.

Since most of the men are working or looking after business the difference in response to day or night calls is understandable.

In any event it was agreed that the lower response figure was six, with the fire chief advising others to remain on stand by should they be needed.

It is not acceptable for demeaning remarks or rumours to be circulated about the efforts of those whose services to the community is so important. Whatever the motives of those who delight in this kind of mistatement, the Reeve is to be commended in bringing the subject out in the open and putting the rumours where they belong - in the garbage can.

The program arranged for Stanhope Fun Days has been augmented by the addition of a science exhibit which will be on display in the basement of the Community Hall all day Saturday. Horseshoe enthusiasts are reminded to register at 10:15 a.m. Saturday, when Gerald Bain will be on hand to conduct the tourney. The beef barbecue will be served at noon and at 1 p.m. Art Hunt and his genial helpers will start the bingo to add to the days enjoyment.

The dog show, to be judged by Dr. Bennett D.V.M., is sure to produce plenty of winners. We should also mention the firemen's demonstration which will be on at 11 a.m., and which the men intend to make a really interesting affair.

by Ron Reid of the Federation of Ontario Naturalists

A warm summer evening in the marsh can be a noisy occasion, full of chattering swallows, squabbling black-birds, and the rising and falling crescendo of frogs. But the strangest of marsh sounds is heard only occasionally - the "wild weird love song" of the American bittern.

This reclusive member of the heron family produces a three-part pumping sound that resembles an old-fashioned stake driver or perhaps a wooden pump - hence the strange name of thunder-pumper. This series of notes, which could hardly be described as a song, is difficult to describe, much less to imitate. Perhaps the closest we can come is to imagine a deep, guttural "pump-er-lunk" or "plum-pudd'n". But once you have heard the strange cry of the bittern, no written description is necessary to remember it for a lifetime.

The bittern is a solitary bird, nesting on a mud platform disguised amongst the reeds. Even though the adults are large, about the size of a

The Senior's Tea will be a happy event for those attending and chairman Ann Barker has arranged for a group of delightful young people to assist with this event.

The bonfire and dance on Saturday night will top things off. Next week we hope to have some facts about the children's day on Sunday, and it might be well to point out that bicycle parade originally scheduled for Saturday will be held on Sunday instead.

crow, their brown and beige streaking and characteristic pose, with neck extended and beak pointed skyward, provide a perfect blend into the light and shadow of a cattail marsh. Their first line of defence against discovery is to freeze motionless, but if disturbed, they rise in clumsy flight with dangling legs and a startled crouch.

The bittern hunting looks like a bittern resting, with its stationary pose. But when the unwary frog or minnow ventures within reach, his end is swift and sure, skewered by a lightning lunge of that shining beak.

No one is quite sure yet how the bittern pumps its song, although it seems to somehow gain resonance by swallowing air. The sound seems almost literally to be pumped out, for it is accompanied by an incredible series of neck and head contortions. But no matter how it is accomplished, the song of the bittern is without a doubt the strangest of sounds to echo across a summer marsh.

Farm News & Views

Victoria County is honoured in having the opportunity to host young people from outside the province for the past week.

Two young farmers from the United Kingdom are visiting with Junior Farmer families in the area. Rod Marsen from Staffordshire, England, is staying with the Olivers' at Bobcaygeon. Alison Stewart of Tayside, Scotland, is a guest of the Jack Magahay family of R.R. 5, Lindsay.

Victoria County is also taking part in an Inter-Provincial 4-H Exchange. Beverly Moon from Williams Lake, British Columbia is visiting with the Herman Rodman family of R.R. 2, Little Britain and the Ross Chambers family at R.R. 1, Oakwood.

In talking with these young people, we find that their experiences with agriculture are different from ours.

Land in the United Kingdom is farmed extensively. Crops are heavily fertilized. One hundred bushels to the acre for barley is common. Farmers are very conscious of land use. Swamps and wetlands are drained. Regulations for severing land and putting up buildings are quite strict. Sheep, beef and dairy enterprises are common. The main crops grown are barley, oats and potatoes. Most farms have a combination of enterprises.

Agriculture at Williams Lake, B.C. is limited to beef ranching with little cash cropping. There are many lakes and hills in the area. Williams Lake is about 150 miles south of Prince George. Logging and mining along with ranching are the major industries in the area. Southern British Columbia is well known for its fruit production.

We are privileged to have 4-H and Young Farmer delegates visiting with us. We can learn about agriculture and rural life in other parts of Canada and the world.

Glamorgan council hires local as road superintendent

The township of Glamorgan will have a local resident as the road superintendent, council decided last week.

The decision to hire Vince Billings came at the July 8 meeting of council.

The controversy over the hiring of an outside resident, Edward Bryan, began last June 10 when council voted to hire Bryan after interviewing four applicants, three of whom were local residents.

The ratepayers, upon hearing the news, drew up a petition and took it to council.

Council then withdrew the motion to hire Bryan.

Bryan consulted his lawyer - Deputy reeve Ken Maguire acted as liaison for council and a letter from Bryan's lawyers was read at the June 23 meeting.

It requested council reimburse Bryan for the purchase of a truck he needed for the job, a sum of $1424.80, the difference between his present salary and what he would have received in his new post, and $50 to cover legal costs.

Council passed a motion agreeing to the conditions of the letter.

The motion to hire Billings was carried 3 - 2.

Michael Collins, a spokesman for the ratepayers said he was pleased with the decision.

"All I wanted was for them to hire someone from the area because we have serious unemployment here. I didn't like the fact that they brought in a 23 year old boy from outside the area."

Collins added that, "I understand they'll give him a six-month trial and if he doesn't work out then they'll have to try and get someone else."

Trent Severn Waterway News

From high water conditions two weeks ago with flows on the lower Trent River around 170 cubic metres per second (nearly the limit for safe navigation in that section) the conditions have reversed, so that now only the summer minimum of about 20 cubic metres per second is running. Despite heavy thunderstorm activity with rain on Tuesday, July 8 the drying trend has really taken hold the past few days to today, July 11.

Reservoir storage averaged 95.8% on July 7 and will probably average about 90-92% by Monday July 14. Some lakes of course will be higher, some lower than this. Gull River and Burnt River flows remain above minimal, because the need to retain maximum levels on the Haliburton area lakes is diminished as we approach mid-July.

Many fluctuations of levels have occurred throughout the system recently as the contradictions of weather and desired present and future uses required many flow changes by Trent-Severn personnel.

Lake Simcoe-Couchiching remains a few centimetres above the long-term average with Severn River flows above minimal due mainly to appreciable flows from the Black River. In dry summers it contributes very little to the Severn flow.

Waterway visitation

May and June had their fair share of grey chilly days - but this hasn't dented visitation to Ontario's major Waterway. Use is up over last year in all sections of the Waterway. Some representative locks are:

Burleigh Falls	1248	1409
Buckhorn	1539	2500

Traffic appears to be up slightly over last year to the end of June.

The weather has been lovely and sunny this week and many of our residents have been outside enjoying the sunshine as well as taking part in our regular activities. Monday morning we had fun and fitness and later in the afternoon the ladies went to the Craft room to prepare for the bazaar.

The annual Summer Bazaar will be held in the auditorium, July 18th at 2 p.m. There will be lots of things to buy and good things to eat. There will also be a surprise attraction. Come and bring a friend, we promise you will have a nice afternoon.

Monday evening was movie time. We viewed three very interesting films. "Forest Heritage" told us the history of our pulp and paper industry in Canada. We saw how our ancestors worked with broad axes and muscle power. Today modern machinery makes the work easier and 1/10 of the world's paper is produced in Canada.

"Legoland" took us on a tour of a village made entirely with Lego blocks. The village is located in Denmark, and is a great tourist attraction. Three-quarters of a million guests visit Legoland each year.

"Detergents" told us how the many kinds of soaps are made. It was interesting to note that the detergents we use every day are made from crude oil.

Tuesday morning, Mr. Bill Horne, a student minister from the Gospel Church in Minden held an inspiring service in the chapel. Mr. Fred Ballard played the organ for us while we sang some gospel hymns.

Wednesday at noon, everyone went outside and had a barbeque lunch. Mark Schell turned out some delicious hamburgers and hot dogs and served ice cream cones for dessert. Everyone enjoys the barbeques, and we're going to try to have them often this summer, weather permitting.

The ladies from Luterworth Pines brought a delicious assortment of squares, tea breads and cheese for the Thursday tea party. Our thanks to these friendly ladies for making our afternoon very enjoyable.

It was a pleasure to have Grace Coburn and Norma Barron entertain us at the sing song on Friday afternoon. Mrs. Osler and her son dropped in for the sing song, and it was a delight to listen as Mrs. Osler, who is 97 years old, played a few tunes on the piano for us.

Saturday afternoon we loaded the bus and went to the Stanhope Air Show. Our residents thoroughly enjoyed the whole show and were enthused with the lovely grounds and the hospitality shown them. We had front row seats waiting for us and were able to see and hear everything. A special thank you to Ella Gilles for making our residents comfortable. Everyone enjoyed a picnic lunch prepared by our kitchen staff before the show. It was a beautiful day, the show was great, and was a nice way to end the week of activities at Hyland Crest.

Is fitness Important?
Ask any body.

Society to run old curling club

Minden Township council has agreed to allow the Haliburton County Agricultural Society to take over the administration of the present curling club structure. The agreement was reached at the July 9 meeting of the council.

The meeting was addressed by Agricultural Society president Jerry Pillsworth. He noted that plans are in the works for the construction of a new curling club, the future of the present building was in doubt. He told the councillors the society was willing to take over the administration of the structure, which would include meeting the operating expenses such as hydro, insurance and other fees. In turn, the society would receive the income derived from the renting of the building.

The structure will continue to be owned by the municipality.

The society president noted there were some structural deficiencies in the building. In 1979 the Ontario Ministry of Labour condemned the building for winter use because of the structural faults. This restriction was eased last winter to allow curling to continue but a constant monitoring of the snow load on the roof had to be carried out.

Now that the building is no longer being used for curling, the necessary supports to make it sound could probably be added in the interior. Previously, the fact that curling was being played there meant the supports could not be installed without interfering with the ice surface.

Reeve Sinclair Nesbitt agreed with the request from the society president. He noted that it was a shame to see a building of that size standing empty. "...particularly if a few repairs could bring it into 12 month use."

The council also requested that Godfrey Saunders, who has been instrumental in the design of the new curling club, give an assessment of the repairs that may be necessary to the building to make it structurally sound.

The administration council for the building, made up of members of the township council, was disbanded and a joint committee will be formed to oversee the use of the structure.

The building is currently being used by the Minden Lawn Bowling Club. This group is expected to continue in the building until the season is finished and will relocate in the new curling club next spring.

Bible conference

The 41st annual summer Bible Conference ministry in Bobcaygeon will be highlighted by the visit of internationally known Dr. Harold Lindsell as speaker. He will address Conference audiences in Trinity United Church. The church is located in Bobcaygeon, and the Conference begins Wednesday, July 23rd and runs through Sunday, July 27th. The weeknight meetings are at 8 p.m. with the concluding Sunday evening meeting at 7:30 p.m., each evening preceded by a hymn sing. There will also be special music each night.

Dr. Lindsell is Editor Emeritus of Christianity Today, international Christian magazine. Having authored fifteen books and been an ordained minister for thirty six years in the Southern Baptist Convention, as well as having spent some seventeen years on the faculty of Fuller Seminary in California, Dr. Lindsell is eminently qualified to speak as he will on the subject "Crucial Problems Facing Evangelicals" and relating to current views as to the authority and inspiration of Holy Scripture. His messages promise to be articulate, forthright, challenging and inspirational.

While in Bobcaygeon Dr. Lindsell will also address the monthly Men's Breakfast in Trinity United Church on Saturday, July 26th at 8 a.m. Sunday morning he will preach at Knox Presbyterian Church, Bobcaygeon at 11 a.m.

Parking lot pact sealed

An agreement has been reached between township council and Charles Brandon for the use of property owned by him for a municipal parking lot. The agreement was approved by the council July 9.

The land in question is located behind Northland Surplus, a store owned by Mr. Brandon. The land is behind and beside the present library.

The township agreed to spend $1000 to upgrade the area during the first year of operation and to spend $500 per year thereafter to maintain it as a public parking area. The township has also agreed that it will be used for parking purposes.

The agreement can be cancelled with 30 days notice by either party, except during the summer months. Once the summer period has begun, and the agreement is still in force, it cannot be cancelled until after Labour Day of the same year.

The township will provide the signs and markers for the parking area.

Come on in...
and we'll tell you all about it

Recent guests with Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Bunker and Chris were the Tom Bunkers of Timmins, the Gary Williams, Miss Pat Bunker and Don Elson all of Stouffville.

Mrs. Harold Sears of Dorset and Mr. and Mrs. H. Lovegrave and Angela McKay of Hamilton visited one afternoon last week with Mr. and Mrs. M. Sears.

All their friends send good wishes to Len Hamilton who was in hospital and to Pearl Durant who is on crutches suffering with torn ligaments.

Recent guests with Mrs. Harry Welch were Pat and Ron Welch and Heather of Frankfort; Ron stayed on for a longer visit.

Congratulations to Georgina Boyle who was the lucky winner of the Los Angeles trip through the Minden Red and White Store.

Recent guests with the Mark Vaseys included the John Bumsters and Mrs. Hugh Vasey.

Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Harry Welch was hostess for a birthday party for her sister, Carrie Jones, on the latter's 76th birthday; present were a dozen relatives and friends enjoying a social time.

Behind the scenes at every party
Up and down the land,
The cheerful angels with the dishmops
Lend a helping hand.
And while they work, a hearty laugh
Cuts the dreary job in half.
D. Hope

Sincere sympathy goes to the family and friends of the late Gladys Birmingham whose funeral was last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Robinson report having heard from son Bradley who presently is enjoying his stay in Rome, Italy.

Friday afternoon is the Tea and Bazaar at Hyland Crest and on Saturday is the Art Show, also at the Hyland Crest. Posters will give the times for these.

Just wondered if you would like to know we started this column in the Minden paper in June 1968 and now are in our 13th year. We welcome any news which you would like to have included but need this between 12:30 and 2 on Mondays.

The Story Time at Minden Library will continue for the next five weeks and adults wishing books may also drop in then from 10-11 a.m. This branch is also open afternoons 3 - 5 and Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings 7:30 - 8:30.

We hear that the new Mart on Highway 35 will be opening this Wednesday. We wonder how this will affect the downtown business.

Lines from Lutterworth
by Jean Lacey

were up to their cottage on the weekend.

We wish Steve Southorn all the best in his new appointment.

We would like to see more youngsters out to our films at the Library on Monday nights from 7 to 8.

Please don't forget the Puppet Show, Thursday morning at 11:30. The Deckhands are putting it on. Crafts and storytime from 2 to 3 p.m.

Hint of the Week

When you are out of baby shampoo - shampoo will not run into eyes if you put petroleum jelly on baby's eyebrows and eyelids. The soap will run sideways instead of downward.

OR, put a diving mask on your child. It is fun and he can watch the bubbles run down his mask without getting soap in his eyes. Peek-a-boo, I see you.

In this world, it is not what we take up, but what we give up, that makes us rich. Take it easy. Bye for now. God bless till next time.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Astbury

There in a park on sunny days
She sits beneath a tree
And smiles and nods and chats away
As gaily as can be.
Of life--or death--she's unafraid,
And young at eighty in the shade!

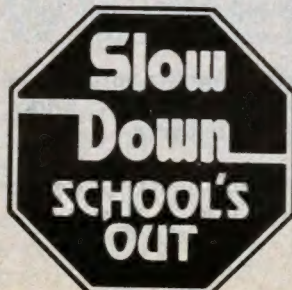

Anon

Saturday will also be a busy one at St. Paul's Parish Hall as from 10-4 will be their Annual "Big Day". There will be the tea room, baking, crafts and white elephant table and the Thrift Shop will be open. Also, draw will be made on the lovely quilt, be sure and get a ticket on that.

Rotary Club of Minden do a great job in our community and their Carnival is to be July 30 and 31, and the parade goes at about 6 on the 30th. Plan to have a float in the parade and see the Canoe Race that same night. The Arena will have rides and games for everyone so support this community club.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Vasey of Winchester are spending their holiday at their cottage.

Very pleasant weather after last week's storm; drive carefully. Cheerio until next time.

A Penny's Worth

by Yvonne Penney

Congratulations are extended to the newly-weds, Lynn and Larry Watson (nee Barnhart) who were married on Saturday, July 12 at Zion United Church here in Carnarvon. They will reside in Peterborough on their return from a honeymoon trip to the west coast.

Keep in mind the Stanhope Fun Days to be held on Saturday and Sunday July 26-27. Get yourself a ticket on the draw for a hind quarter of beef - tickets are on sale at local stores. Also, I hear there are to be several exhibits from the Science Centre in Toronto as well as an excellent list of events such as a beef barbecue, a dog show, a tennis demonstration, horse-shoe pitching etc. Plan now to attend.

Sinclair and Mabel Russell have returned from a three week trip to the Maritimes. They made the trip with their son Colin and his wife and report having a nice time.

Eric and Shirley Cowen are having their first experience at camping on Boshkung Lake.

Mrs. George Cowen spent the weekend with relatives in the area.

Sandra and Dave Johnston and two children of Hornepayne, Ont. are holidaying with their grandparents, Maurice and Blanche Windsor. Mr. and Mrs. James Swartz of Oshawa also spent this past Sunday visiting with the Windsor's.

A safety tip - "If it's too close to bother to buckle your seat belt, it's close enough to walk."

Elsie and John Brown of Kirkcaldy, Fife, Scotland and also Bertha and Jack Parker of Scarborough spent four or five days visiting with Joan and Ron Fennell and Jack and Hazel Gregory last week.
